*A*t the delightful city of Indaiatuba, located in the State of São Paulo, one hour driving from São Paulo city, host of the Brazilian National Arabian Horse Show. Traditionally under the patronage of Alsayed Stud from Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, presenting horses in halter, performances, jumping, barrel racing and working categories, with more than 600 Arabian horses in the show. This show is considered the most important Arabian horse exhibition in Latin America, bringing horses from the entire American continent to Brazil in search of the supreme title. The arena as always was beautifully decorated with Brazilian flag colors. These are accompanied by visitors from all over the world, who were delighted not only by the quality of the Brazilian Arabian horses, but also by the well-known hospitality of the people, which is not limited to "caipirinhas", "samba" and wonderful beaches. This year the halter classes had only one Brazilian judge, Leonardo Pinheiro Machado.
