The 2017 World Championships in Paris, like every year was the magical event where Arabian horse lovers from all over the world gathered together to see the crème de la crème of the Arabian Horse World and where all the Arabian horse breeders, owners and enthusiasts are looking forward to. The show arena as always was beautifully decorated with the Eiffel Tower, the Arc the Triomphe and "le Moulin Rouge" and alongside the pre-ring there were many stands where the training centers celebrated this 38th edition of the World Championships with all their friends and clients. Judges for this year's World championships were Mrs. Silvia Garde-Ehlert (Ger), Mr. Ferdinand Huemer (Aus), Mr. Steve Lieblang (Usa), Mr. Luiz Rocco (Bra), Mrs. Renata Schibler (Swi), Mrs. Marianne Tengstedt (Den), Mr. Marc Veray (Fra) and Mr. Georges Zbyszewski (Usa).

The show was divided over three days. Friday 24th was dedicated to the female qualification rounds, Saturday 25th to the male qualifications and Sunday 26th to the final World Championships.

The new timing was appreciated by all as it let people spend time in this wonderful city, Paris.

The show started on Friday with incredible yearling fillies. The yearlings are known to be one of the toughest classes but this year they seemed even closer to perfection. The show continued with the junior fillies and the senior mares.

Saturday was reserved for the males. The junior colt classes were filled with gorgeous young colts. Then the stallions who were the excitement of the day.

On Sunday everyone was ready for the big battle. The championships also in Paris are open championships, meaning that anyone that qualified for the championships can be a Gold, Silver or Bronze Champion. Not only the ones placed in the top of the class. This system makes the championships even more exciting as all cards are blank and everyone is getting a new chance to proof him/herself.

Who will win the ultimate title of Gold World Champion 2017?

The championships started with the yearling fillies. What a quality! Then was the time of junior filly championship that was an exciting one. The senior mare championship was again a strong battle between stunning beauties.

The show continued with the World championships yearling colts and again history was made.

And then it was time for the ultimate challenge. I believe that the ones who were fortunate to be present at that particular moment would never forget the special atmosphere surrounding the stallions. Since it was streamed I recommend to check it out and watch it as it was incredible.

The platinum medal is being won by a senior male or female horse presented in the class who already won a Gold medal at the World Championships at one of the past editions. The ultimate honor of 2017 Platinum World champion stallion went to Gazal Al Shaqab, really a living legend. The stallion was greeted by a standing ovation by the crowd. Many tried to join him in the ring to take a picture or a selfie with this incredibly beauty stallion.

Watching the 2017 edition of the world championships live in Paris made us realize how fortunate we are to be able to see all these wonderful gifts of God at one special place and to enjoy them all together as one Arabian horse community. □
