

KING ABDULAZIZ ARABIAN HORSE CENTER CHAMPIONSHIP SHOW

17-19 December 2013, Dirab – Riyadh, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia

The King Abdulaziz Arabian Horse Center (KAAHC) is the pride of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia for its role as a steward of one of the country's greatest cultural treasures – the Arabian horse.

In December of 2013, the Center once again opened its gates for a historic championship Arabian horse show. This tradition of hosting significant shows began in 1996 when the Center held the first National Championship show in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia under the patronage of His Majesty the Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques, King Abdullah Bin Abdulaziz Al Saud. Two additional Championship shows were held in 1998 and 2005. These three shows were instrumental in ensuring that additional Arabian horse shows began to be organized throughout the Kingdom.

The KAAHC International Championship Arabian Horse Show, the fourth show to be held at this beautiful site, was an International "A" Show under ECAHO rules, with judges from countries around the world and top quality horses from the Kingdom and abroad.

The event was attended by many honored guests, including members of the Saudi royal family, government ministers, and Arabian horse dignitaries from around the globe.

One of the greatest attractions of the show was its congenial atmosphere. Owners, breeders, trainers, and spectators enjoyed the thoughtful layout of the various areas and joined together to enthusiastically cheer their favorites throughout the event.

While the spacious and beautifully-designed show facilities are a highlight of the Center, KAAHC remains dedicated to preserving and breeding the original strains of desertbred Arabians as well as the finest bloodlines of purebred Arabian horses from all over the world.

One of the KAAHC's vital functions is as the official registry for the Arabian breed. However, the Center has many additional roles necessitating that the facilities at KAAHC are in continuous improvement. Among many results of Center's recent development is a harmonious breeding facility with beautiful and functional barns and paddocks, as well as a state-of-the-art equine clinic and breeding center.

The location of KAAHC in an agricultural valley just outside of Riyadh is perfect for a show. Desert mountains form a spectacular background, and huge stone monoliths in the distance contribute to a sense of grandeur. The beauty of the surroundings was matched by the lovely fillies in the first class of the show. A large entry of nearly fifty yearling fillies necessitated the class be divided into three sections.

The competition was fierce as the championship and Gold Medal was awarded to a filly who lives up to her name, DELIGHT'S DIVAH RB (Ajman Moniscione X Honey's Delight RB). Her winning score was 91.70 points and she
