London was one of the most prestigious stops of the year for the Global Champions Arabians Tour, undoubtedly due also to its first-rate venue – the Royal Hospital Chelsea – renowned for its beauty and historical and social significance. The city is airy, green, with wide boulevards, clean and liveable, boasting large parks steeped in silence and tranquillity. More and more people, particularly from the Middle East, are choosing London as a summer retreat to escape the heat of their homes and to immerse themselves in the vibrant life of the British capital.

Thus, thanks in part to these logistical advantages, London enjoyed once again this year a huge turnout, both in terms of VIP guests and registered horses. Furthermore, the decision to offer free entry to the public meant that many families, onlookers and enthusiasts turned out to watch the competition, particularly on the final day – the championship's one – filling the public stands with a colourful throng of British colours and flags.

The local marching band opened the league match day, lending a touch of solemnity to the upcoming clash between the teams in the respective divisions.

Thanks also to its many long-standing sponsors, Doha Bank, Qatar Airways, Richard Millet, UDC United Development Co., Waldorf Astoria Maldives Ithaafushi, Bentley Qatar, Intercontinental London Park Lane, Ali Bin Ali Luxury, Alkass Sports Channels and Education Above All - which raised support for a meaningful cause throughout the event thanks to its Silent Auction - the Global Champions

Arabians Tour London hosted its VIP guests in an extremely elegant private area where the standard of service, catering and hospitality was impeccable, spoiling its guests with music, delicious food prepared with meticulous attention to detail, and an elegant shopping area curated by selected luxury partners of exquisite taste, offering visitors every conceivable indulgence in food and fashion.

In short, a feast for the eyes, the palate and the senses – the perfect accompaniment to a show that saw the very best of the best Arabian horses currently dominating the industry go head-to-head.

The show – needless to say – was thrilling and exciting; as always, you can watch replays of the classes and championships, as well as all the highlights from each day, on the channels of the many media outlets involved, alongside interviews with the stars at the prize-giving ceremonies and the entertainment provided by GCAT for the guests.

The Global Champions Arabians Tour in London at its second edition this year once again proved to be a distinguished host for this prestigious international competition.

Next European stop will be Aachen - All Nations Cup. For the very first time, GCAT will arrive there, in a destination renowned for its equestrian legacy in one of the world's most renowned cities for equestrian sports and events. A new venue for the Global Champions Arabians Tour, which will bring the tour Finale to Aachen on 26-27 September.

See you there!
