ISMER STUD HORSE PRESENTATION 2026

It is undoubtedly the Arabian Horse Festival that comes to life every year in Ströhen, but it is also so much more. It is the magic of the Tierpark, a proper zoo where you can immerse yourself in a wild and fairy-tale world, letting nature envelop you. Here, families and children gather, their eyes filled with wonder as they gaze at a tiger, a cheetah, a family of meerkats and many other animals.

Ströhen is a spectacle with a unique identity and a history all of its own, capable of captivating first-time visitors in particular. We have had the privilege of being part of it for many years and, despite the passing of time, every return is as exciting as the first. Just as it is for us, for many breeders this event is an unmissable highlight of the ECAHO calendar – an experience to be enjoyed and shared year after year. At the Ströhen Show, above all else, you can feel the spirit of the Ismer family. It is their mark that characterises every detail of this event, just as its founder, Mr Holger Ismer, had envisaged it from the very beginning: an authentic, deeply family-oriented show, where everyone knows their role but, when needed, everyone is ready to pitch in. An organization born of passion, which creates an atmosphere of genuine warmth for guests and complete tranquillity for the horses. This year, the event took place from 17 to 19 July.

Friday is, as is traditional, the day of anticipation: the horses arrive, the stables come to life, the arena takes shape and the grand marquee once again becomes the beating heart of the show. Here, during the customary welcome drinks, every smile, every hug and every handshake speaks of the joy of being together again, kicking off that ritual which, for years, has brought together breeders, friends and enthusiasts from all over the world. The evening continues with one of the most eagerly awaited moments: the presentation of the finest horses from the Ismer Stud breeding programme. Led by the commentary of Dr Nils Ismer and Mr Eric Blaak, the stud's jewels take to the ring, ambassadors of a selection built on expertise and foresight. There are two stallions; all eyes are drawn to the imposing Ascot DD (Glorious Apal × Lady Nina DD), whilst, under the lenses of countless photographers, a succession of horses of the highest calibre take to the stage, including IS En Vogue, IS Eufemia, IS Pialuna, IS Well Done and IS Ella Fantastica. Next to take centre stage are the offspring of the broodmares sired by EBT Bel Subayan (FA El Rasheem × Maryse OS) – tangible evidence of a breeding programme that continues to look to the future without forgetting its roots.

On the morning of 18 July, the ring will be transformed into a competition arena. Two prestigious events were on the programme: the European Show and the International B-Show, both judged by Category A judges, a guarantee of expertise and international prestige. For the European Show, the judges were Mr Alaa Hammad from Bahrain, ECAHO President Mr Jaroslav Lacina from the Czech Republic and Mrs Anna Stefaniuk from Poland. The International B-Show, meanwhile, featured Mr Allan Preston from Australia, Mr Jonas Salzmänn from Kuwait and Mr Ali Shaarawi from Egypt. A particularly encouraging sign was the presence of numerous aspiring judges and members of the Disciplinary Committee, reflecting a commitment to training a new generation of professionals. Among them were Mr Angelo Boscarino (Italy), Mr Andy Letsch (Germany) and Mrs Sarah Holm (Sweden). Ring Master Mrs Lizette Svensson (Sweden) directed the pace of the two competitions with impeccable professionalism, whilst the Disciplinary Committee – comprising Mrs Line Brunsgård (Denmark), Mrs Mia Hvid (Denmark), Mrs Pernille Dongard (Denmark) and Dr. vet. Mie Hansen (Denmark) – ensured the smooth running of the events. Accompanying every entrance, every trot and every moment of excitement was the soundtrack composed by Mr Lars Grootswagers, now an integral part of the show's identity. The unmistakable voice of Mr Eric Blaak, with elegance and precision, announced the results and rankings, creating that harmonious rhythm that makes Ströhen instantly recognizable.

On Saturday, almost all the horses entered in the two shows – around a hundred – took turns in the ring, leaving the final classes dedicated to the futurity and the Amateur class for Sunday morning. This is the moment when the tension mounts, the anticipation becomes palpable and every detail takes on special significance: every entry can change a horse's fate in the championship. When the final classes conclude, silence falls for a moment. Then the ring prepares to welcome the most exciting moment of the weekend: the championships. It all begins with the European Show. For it is at that very moment that Ströhen once again reveals its true essence. It is not merely a competition, nor simply a showcase for the Arabian horse; it is a place where tradition, friendship, breeding and passion coexist in perfect harmony.

An event that, year after year, manages to thrill those experiencing it for the first time and to draw back those who, having joined this great family, feel the desire to return. Behind this magic lies a discreet yet tireless organization, built on dedication, experience and a love of detail. It bears the name of the Ismer family and, in particular, that of Mrs Yvonne Habermann, whose work continues to make Ströhen one of the most highly regarded and authentic events on the international calendar.
