

Pietrasanta

L'arte del Cavallo

by Giorgia Mauri ■ photos by Sunny

The event L'Arte del Cavallo (the Art of Horses) was at its twentieth edition and, as you can read in the preface by Mayor Giovannetti, "well represents our desire to tell the whole world that Pietrasanta and Versilia are once again welcoming, hospitable and above all safe places." After last year's stop, the Versilia Park reopened its doors to this event in which as many as 80 horses from all over the world participated. The artwork signed by sculptor Antonio Signorini accompanied the poster of the initiative, giving even greater value to the setting in which the show was held. The event also served as a prologue to the rich season that the Fondazione Versilia is preparing for the entire summer, with open-air shows in the large theater, cultural encounters with great personalities from the worlds of culture, journalism, science and politics, and activities dedicated to children.

Thanks to Mayor Giovannetti, to the organizer Luciano Borzonasca and to the Versilia Foundation we were able to attend a B-class show that was very well attended both by the breeders who showed their horses and by the public who flocked to admire the grace of the magnificent creatures present, in the highest expression of their beauty that is realized through the harmony and elegance of their forms.

Tutto Arabi was the mediapartner of the event and Arabian Essence took care of the streaming.

To judge the beauty of these horses were invited Cristian Moschini (Italy), Michaela Weidner (Germany), Gedeon Reisel (The Netherlands) and Francesco Santoro (Italy). Ringmaster was Alberto Manerba (Italy)

D.C. was composed by Giampaolo Teobaldelli, Andrea Di Salvo and Barbara Raso from Italy

Music by Gianluca Filippi
