Future Farms Annual Open Day was again held on their property at Bolinda Vic on Saturday 3rd December 2011. The day was attended by some 450 people who travelled in from everywhere in the Arabian horse world including the USA, Canada, UK, Germany, Brazil, New Zealand and of course from various states in Australia.

On a beautiful balmy afternoon the show commenced with people being able to walk the various mare and foal paddocks at their leisure, get up nice and close to the many horses on display in each of the barns and view the training and breeding facilities on the farm.

This was followed by a professional presentation of each of the fabulous breeding stallions standing at stud and then the mares with this year's babies at foot.

The barn was then opened again to allow people to have another look at the horses presented as well as other quality horses for sale and ask the several staff on hand any questions they may have had in relation to individual horses.
