On the weekend of 11 and 12th of June, the Stoop family organized once again the Arabian Horse Weekend. On the Saturday there were the amateur classes and on Sunday the International horse show. It has been a busy month for all of us as the shows are now kicking in every weekend. Still there were enough horses and visitors taking the effort to travel to Sint Oedenrode, a small town in The Netherlands. Judges for this event were Mr. T. Tarczynski (Poland), Mr. C. Bakker (The Netherlands), Mr. G. Smith (Australia) and Mr. Eiad Safady (Israel).

As always there was a nice arena with a VIP area but also with seats for other visitors. There were some stands selling horse products and also the food was taken care off. Unfortunately the weather has been dreadful the past weeks, making the grass very slippery for the horses.

The weekend started with a nice group of amateur classes. It is nice to see more and more horses participating at this event and that more owners are enthusiastic to show their own horses.

The international show started with two groups of yearling fillies. A nice group of fillies, all with quite an interesting pedigree were shown in the first group. Winner with 90.38 point was the very typy H Emalee H (Jaipur el Perseus x H Emandia H) – bred by Frank Hennesey and owned by Sheikh Abdul Mohsen bin Abdul Malik al Sheikh from Saudi Arabia. Later in the championships she was tie for Gold, but ended up getting the silver by choice of judges. Second in this class with 89.56 points and later Bronze champion filly was the very showy Ero's Valentina (DA Valentino x Raville P) – bred and owned by the van Duijvenbode family from The Netherlands.

The second group of yearling fillies had the ultra typy Anwar

Aljassimya Farm Amateur Challenge

by Aad Oomen ■ photos by Jan Kan

On 11 and 12 June 2016, the Stoop family organized the 13th Arabian Horse Weekend in Sint-Oedenrode, the Netherlands. On Saturday this event was kicked off with the Aljassimya Farm Amateur Challenge, a wonderful initiative of Aljassimya Farm from Doha, Qatar.

The very elegant panel of judges for this amateur show consisted of Ms. Claudia Darius from Germany, Ms. Eline Raes from Belgium, Ms. Mindy Peters from the United States of America and Ms. Antonia Bautista from Spain. The handing over of the trophies was taking care of by Princess Isabelle zu Hohenlohe and Aljassimya Farm's cornerstone staff member Emmie Graafland.

The Aljassimya Farm Amateur Challenge has three gradations: Novice, Amateur and Experienced and the day started with the Novice Junior Fillies class. The winner of this class was the beautiful bay MP Jawa Aljassimya (WH Justice x Pagentry EA), bred by Aljassimya Farm and owned by Flaxman Arabians from Belgium, very well presented by Priscilla de la Ruelle. An ex aequo ranking though a second place, due to a lower score on harmony, for Jorn Theys and Joarah Magdalana (GR Marvel x Younique F), bred and owned by Sarah Mets from Belgium. This chestnut filly showed super movements which could have been appreciated more compared to her competitors. A luxurious bay with outstanding neck, Ero's Vanity (Vitorio TO x Raville P), bred and owned by the Van Duyvenbode family from the Netherlands and presented by Jolanda van Duyvenbode, closed the top three. Despite achieving a nice result, this combination had quite a consistent score along the line that started to differ substantially for harmony and presentation, which was surprising. Forelock's Fiorenza bint Bashir (Bashir Al Shaqab x Farah van Arpeto), bred and owned by Forelock's Arabians from the Netherlands and presented by Rianne Elsinga, is a classy grey that showed a lot of interest in what was going on, but presentation appeared to be a bridge too far to end up in the top three. The pinto filly Layla (Lobeke x Cheyenne) was a refreshing variation in the participants and ended up fifth with her presenter Maaïke Vink. The class was closed by the refined NA Gracy Junah (WH Justice x Classic Junah-D), bred by Dion Arabians from Belgium and owned by Forelock's Arabians. Although her handler Kim den Haan did well and tried her best, this junior filly was just too temperate and chill to shine in the ring.

The Novice Junior Colts had two competitors and turned out to be a battle between David vs. Goliath. An imposing two-year old CS Coconut Jack (Mystic Dream J x EM Pinacolada), presented by his breeder and owner Charissa Schutte from the Netherlands, showed himself proudly and used his impressive front. The very juvenile yearling SA Nari Noir (Shubani Al Asari x Noir Khazar), bred by M. Schäfer from Germany and presented by his owner Anita Bollen from the Netherlands, was a bit overwhelmed and took a well-deserved second place.

Unfortunately only one competitor in the following Amateur Junior Colts class and thus a first place for the dark bay IEA Yusteyn (ZT Marwteyn x Yusriyyah), bred and owned by C.A. van Wengarden/Idol's Eye Arabians from the Netherlands and nicely presented by Isabelle Könst, who had her hands full with this little thunderbolt.

The fourth class, being the Novice Geldings, was won by the striking chestnut Erogon (Honorr x Raville P), bred by the Van Duyvenbode family and also presented by Jolanda van Duyvenbode. This horse is a typical example of the Arabian breed and his presenter showed a lot of fingerspitzengefühl and horse empathy. FA Emerald (Kar Tiburon x Krystal C), bred and owned by Flaxman Arabians and presented by Priscilla de la Ruelle, ended second, due to being less typical than Erogon.

Again only one competitor, this time for the Novice Senior Stallions. The fact that he was the only one should not affect his quality, because the powerful bay Yanour Hayati (JK Catalyst x Yentl), well presented by his breeder and owner Yildiz Horsten from the Netherlands, showed with a great attitude and is a well conformed and classy Arabian horse.

The first place in the following Novice Senior Mares went to F&M Umojka (AF Umoyo x Palalajka), bred and owned by F&M Arabians from the Netherlands. A solid mare with classical beauty and great movements, which resembles a lot of her grandsire Abakan and had a great interaction with her owner and presenter Femke Maat. The grey Om El Batala Alaam (Alfabia Ajib x Om El Baba Dream), bred by Om El Arab International from the USA and owned by Flaxman Arabians, achieved a second place with succesful presenter Priscilla de la Ruelle who gained a third top-three ranking this morning! DSA Mahiba (Mahmudi x Schakira), bred by M. Schmidtchen from Germany and shown by her owner Livia Jansen from Germany, closed the class.

When all the Novice classes had taken place, the Best of Show Novice was to be elected and this ultimate honour went, quite well deserved, to the beautiful Erogon and his owner Jolanda van Duyvenbode.

The seventh class, the Amateur Junior Fillies, was won by Wendy Delvalle and Forelock's Ynicon (Bashir Al Shaqab x Yody F), bred and owned by Forelock's Arabians. This consistent, well-build mare could use a bit more type but her excellent movements showed off very well, although she could have paid some more attention. She was followed by Amasi NK (MS Maverick x Ajdora), a luxurious grey halfsister of Nofal NK, bred and owned by N. Kabook/NK Arabians from Jordan and very well showed by Evi Verstrepen. Koen Hennekens and the refined chestnut Julnar Aljassimya (WH Justice x Venture Serenade), bred by Aljassimya Farm and owned by Flaxman Arabians, joined as third. The bay F&M Karmaya (Kubay Khan x YA Karma), bred and owned by F&M Arabians, was presented by Isa van der Sluis. Amazing how great the movements of both the horse and the young handler were! Vitoria de Monpelou (Vitorio TO x Nijala RC), bred and owned by Monpelou Beautiful Arabians from Germany and shown by Christina Doornberg, ended up fifth, followed by the enormous, well-moving part-bred CNC Phyn's Poëzie (Poker x Zophyn TI), bred and owned by CNC Arabians from the Netherland and also shown by Christina Doornberg.

After the junior fillies the class of Amateur Senior Mares started and here it was Koen Hennekens who led the party, with the very beautiful and characteristic grey Dorsenia (Kabsztad x Dombra), bred by Michałow Stud from Poland and owned by Flaxman Arabians. An outstanding mare with lots of type. The beautiful and snoring Estarda (Ekstern x Narisha), bred and owned by Peter Wilms from Belgium and presented by Niels Wilms, was a strong opponent but nevertheless ended second.

As an intermediary program, there was the election of the best Junior Handler. Seven young handlers and their horses entered the arena and out of these seven promises for the future, the judges unanimously elected one winner. She already was an eye catcher in the Amateur Junior Fillies class with her outstanding performance and therefore I think this award was well-deserved granted to Isa van der Sluis and F&M Karmaya.

Just before the break, there was the Liberty class. Goosebumps, cheers and open mouths for Younique F (SA Movin' Star x Yakima), the bay Liberty Queen bred by Forelock's Arabians and owned by Sarah Mets, presented by Liesbeth D'Yoo. The Best of Show Novice, Erogon, appeared to be a bit of a diesel car with his slow start, he could no longer be excited. Nevertheless he gained a second place, because his movements are just great. F&M Karmaya and Isa van der Sluis closed the top three and were followed by DSA Mahiba with Livia Jansen and the part-bred Kashmira Lazize (Idzard x Paroeska) with her owner Sabrina Verloww.

After the break the Amateur classes continued with the Geldings. Unfortunately one competitor only, but Koen Hennekens and FA Mikhail (Black Diamond LDA x Agolden Girl Kossack) gained a respectable score of 90 points. One of the two entries in the Amateur Senior Stallions showed up, and therefore Christina Doornberg went for the win with Bess-Nurullah (Ajman Moniscione x Bess-Gitana), bred by Bessewacht Arabians from the Netherlands and owned by Daniëlle Biesenbeek.

The Best in Show Amateur trophee now was at hand, with all the Amateur classes finished. The snow-white pearl Dorsenia, with her handler Koen Hennekens, was elected as the winner and in my opinion very well reserved. A wonderful mare and a young talented handler.

Only one Experienced class, a class of Geldings. With sweeping movements the grey Emirzo (Enzo x Emira), bred by Michałow Stud and owned by Flaxman Arabians, marched for the first place with (again!) Koen Hennekens having the lead in his hands. Second here was Cadanz-Badir (Gilly J x Bess-Chandirah), bred and owned by Marie-Louise

Aljassimya Farm Amateur Challenge

Stribbos-Puts/Cadanz Arabians. This well experienced gelding was presented by brand-new handler Isabelle van Daal and achieved a good score. After this Experienced class, Emirzo and Koen received the Best of Show Experienced trophy.

Besides the handler classes in the main ring, the Aljassimya Farm Amateur Challenge also contained three Pleasure classes: Hunter, Classical and Western and two Trail classes: Ridden and In Hand. These classes took place in a side ring and unfortunately I am not able to divide myself in multiple pieces to report both. Therefore I refer to www.arabianhorseresults.com for result and pictures of these classes. Halfway the afternoon, the Aljassimya Farm Amateur Challenge came to an end, to make place for the ECAHO International C Show of the Arabian Horse Weekend. It must be said that this initiative of Aljassimya Farm is a very welcome one and allows owners to enjoy their horses more intense and stimulates to bond with them in another way. Great to see everyone's efforts and the interaction of handler and horse. A very big thank you to Aljassimya Farm: Sheikh Jassim bin Khalifa AlThani, Bart van Buggenbout and team and of course also to Pieter, Ine and Annelieke Stoop for their amazing efforts organizing the Arabian Horse Weekend! See you all next year! □
