The Canary Islands, far more southwards than the moroccan city of Casablanca, are the spanish provinces most far away from the mainland, but they still are a genuine part of Spain, although there are also lots of europeans here who call the place their home. Tenerife is the largest of the seven islands, and one of the major tourist destinations of the world, known for both the wonderful sunny beaches and the volcano Teide, the highest point of Spain with 3.718 meters above sea-level. While horse breeding on an island is certainly not an easy task, there has always been in Tenerife a keen interest in horses and even in racing, lots of aficionados

Catalonia and José Ramón Irigoyen from the Basque Country. After the gelding class, where TIEPOLO, owned by endurance rider Noemi Carrera, was named Champion Gelding, began the three fillies classes with dark grey MALIKAH-DE-LAS-VEGAS (Risco de Las Vegas) winning the yearling fillies class while ABHA-ODISEA and BRAZA, both owned by Cuadras El Asomad, won respectively the two and three years old fillies classes. In the Championships MALIKAH-DE-LAS-VEGAS was named Champion Filly and ABHA-ODISEA Reserve Champion. The next three were the colts, and all were decided by unanimity by the judges with NAZZER-JAG (Jonathan Amaro) as winning yearling colt, ANCOR (Ramón del Castillo) winner of the two years old and ABHA-NEHRU, shown by his owner Jonay Márquez winner of the three years olds with 181 points. The Champion Colt title went also to ABHA-NEHRU and the Reserve Champion was NAZZER-JAG. There were two mares classes with eighteen entries, eleven and seven respectively. In the first class, again by unanimity, the winner was ABHA-JADE, who came with owner Yolanda Casañas from the nearby island of El Hierro, followed by the Jadem bred DIVA-J (Risco de Las Vegas) and PERSIA-HD (El Asomad). The next class, mares eight years and over, went to ANDORRAH followed by MORNING-SHADOW, both bred by Christine Jamar and owned by Risco de Las Vegas. Afterwards ABHA-JADE was named Champion Mare and ANDORRAH Reserve. The two final classes, junior and senior stallions, came with eight and ten entries respectively, and were decided again by unanimity for MIGRANT (Risco de Las Vegas) and EMON (Isabelle Weytjens), both with 182 points. MIGRANT, a handsome polish stallion by EMIGRANT and out of the MONOGRAMM daughter MINA, became also Champion Stallion and EMON was named Reserve Champion. With sixty-one entries, this first Tenerife Arabian Horse Championship was a huge success, both for the quality of the horses and for the superlative organization. After this first try for next year ACPRA plans to upgrade to a B Show and make it a two day event, and look for a new location with a larger ring and more space for horses and people. For sure it will be very exiting to be there, no doubts. □
