

TUTTO ARABI

at 80th Venice Film Festival

by Giorgia Mauri

On the occasion of the 80th Venice Film Festival, the Tutto Arabi booth welcomed visitors from September 6 to 9. It was a great success and an opportunity to meet friends and forge new relationships.

We thank those who together with us believed in this idea from the very beginning and provided their image and ideas giving creative energy to our presence in Venice.

Mindy Peters, who has long been by the side of the We, Women Project wanted to be present also at this juncture by donating the t-shirts created in collaboration with We, Women Project and which already at the Menton show had sold out. After the tremendous success in the VIP area of the Mediterranean & Arab Countries Arabian Horse Championship 2023 in terms of spreading the message in support of women and interest from an increasing number of people We, Women Project and Mindy Peters decided to take part in the Tutto Arabi initiative and to be present in Venice where the t-shirts were all worn bringing to the world the messages chosen to support women around the world:

"When women support each other incredible things happen"

"Shout out to all the amazing men who sincerely support women."

Bigdungbag, a startup that is entering the world with a design product for which it holds the international patent and wants to position itself between the equestrian industry and the world of luxury. It proposes the prototype of a cross-use accessory for the entire equestrian world, a bag that allows to keep horses and environment clean and can be used in all areas of equestrian, sporting, morphological, advertising, artistic, photographic, and exhibition. Maggiolen Uscotti also decided to promote her startup in the pages of Tutto Arabi. She believes in innovation, beauty and hers is a design proposal applicable to the world of equestrian luxury.

Giancarlo Petriglia, an important name in Italian design who creates women's bags that are true works of art in his Milan atelier-gallery where he welcomes many international fashion names who are his loyal customers. His creations are as precious as jewelry, one-of-a-kind pieces that are worn as luxurious red carpet accessories. The fabulous details are impeccably curated. Each bag is a story in itself, to be discovered.

Devis Palazzi, master goldsmith who creates unique jewelry born from an intuition that becomes a work of art. He creates unique pieces made to capture and cherish secret emotions. A passion for art and the pursuit of beauty inspire each of Palazzi's works. The work of the Master Goldsmith is the expression that finds form through his long experience made of study and great creative sensitivity. Nature is always the protagonist in every nuance: unrepeatable materials, colors and sounds become part of every project where the precious element is a tribute to what is pure and intangible.

LT Consulting has been involved in integrated communication strategies and services for more than 20 years. It helps companies, many in the film industry, to better communicate and set up and manage their presence at international trade shows and in their retail. Consulting, planning, logistics and set-up, as well as design and production of all merchandising. LT Consulting is executive in communication and with Tutto Arabi has shared for many years the spirit of openness to the world while remaining faithful to attention to detail and promptness of execution for the best satisfaction of its national and international clients. □
